

Fighting infections in a new light

International Conference "Life meets Light" at Leibniz-HKI

03.09.2018 // 14:44

Severe infections require rapid diagnosis, otherwise there is a risk of death. Under the motto "Life meets Light", biologists and physicists will present current results and new methods in the fight against infectious diseases on September 5 and 6, 2018. They get together with researchers from other disciplines at the international conference of the Leibniz Science Campus InfectoOptics in Jena.

Link to press release \(in German\)

Link to conference website